3-11 Alarm Fire Sweeps Through Southside Building

CHICAGO —(INS)— Six persons perished, a seventh was critically injured and three women were rescued early Saturday when a 3-11 alarm fire swept through a three-story building on Chicago's southwest side.

The man who was reported near death at St. Anthony's hospital is Lysle Leslie Wilkens, whose wife and 4-year-old son died in the fire.

Other victims of the fire were Frank Duffek, 79, the landlord; Kiren Callahan, 45, who lived with him; Mrs. L. L. Wilkens; her son, John, 4, and a man and woman still unidentified, but believed to be a Mr. and Mrs. Beraski.

Many Escape Unaided.

All of the victims were found in third floor apartments. Mrs. Wilkens and her son were alive when they were brought out of the burning building, but died in the hospital.

Nearly 20 other persons escaped unaided.

The flames swept through the building so rapidly that firemen turned in a 3-11 alarm immediately on arrival. A 3-11 fire is one that is judged beyond immediate control.

Sees Sheet of Flame.

Mrs. Louise Gorski said she smelled smoke, heard a woman scream and then saw a sheet of flame in the hallway. She closed the door and awakened her daughter, and both waited for firemen to carry them down ladders.

Duffek and Callahan died when ladders raised to their third story apartment caught fire. They suffocated before other ladders could be raised to save them.

Annual Flower Show Turns High School To Fairy Land

By MARY LOUISE BOOKSTROM

The cafeteria and gymnasium of Lincoln high school vere transformed into a fairyland of blossoms and greenery as the annual two day spring flower show of the Lincoln Garden club got under way Saturday afternoon.

The more than 150 exhibitors, many entering in more than one division, brought to the show everything from home grown peonies, iris, roses, delphiniums and pansies to a dwarfed cypress tree and wax-like Hawaiian flowers flown to Lincoln for the occasion. Even the junior horticulturalists are given an opportunity to display their skill in a special section for school students from the elementary grades through high school.

The prize blooms from Lincoln gardens are being exhibited in the gymnasium, while the cafeteria and the hall are given over to special arrangements and non-competitive arrangements for lawn, porch and terrace. Of special interest in this non-competitive division is the exhibit of rare Hawaiian blooms, some of which have also been used in the competitive classes where hot house flowers are permitted. Included in this exhibit are shell ginger, which resemble clusters of shrimp, anthuriums, which look as though they might belong to the calia lilly family being waxy in appearance and having but one flat petal with an over-sized stamin.

Evergreen Backdrop.

The stair well leading to the second floor is banked with evergreen making an effective back drop for the peonies and roses arranged in the foreground.

Especially clever is the porch arrangement using a Gay Nineties model phonograph painted white with colorful geraniums filling the horn. For a garden party there is the wheel barrow filled with ice and cokes and decorated with red geraniums.

Again this year Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Culler are showing non-competitively their beautiful clematis blooms. Every type of clematis ranging in color from the faintest lavender to deep mauve is included in this exhibit.

Vegatables Used In Arrangements.

Another "unusual" is the tropical plant exhibited on a horse hide rug with boots and spurs and a wooden deer head.

Arrangements using flowers and vegetables also prove effective. One exhibitor used a half watermelon and daisies while another chose a red cabbage as the focal point in her arrangement.

Other special arrangements included designs for a magazine cover; depicting name of a perfume; flowers for the hair or hat; and children's sick room arrangments.

Another effective section was the shadow boxes lining the south wall of the cafeteria. The various table settings also drew favorable comment.

Mrs. Walter J. Gardner is general chairman for the show which opened to the public at 2 p. m. Saturday and will close at 9 p. m. Sunday. Mrs. Everett E. Angle is president of the Garden Club.

President Turns Movie Cameraman

. . . 'Shoots' Crew Race

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — President Truman, trying a new diamond strategy for him, proved his ambidextrous prowess Saturday by throwing out two balls at the Army - Navy baseball game.

He threw the first ball with his left hand and the second with his right as the Middies and Cadets renewed their rivalry on Lawrence field.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. — (AP) — Movie cameraman Harry S. Truman worked at full speed Saturday as he saw Navy make a clean sweep of its Memorial Day week end crew races with Cornell.

Standing on the forward deck of the USS Williamsburg's escort tender, the president trained his movie camera on the oarsmen, his companions, newspapermen aboard the press boat, and the scenery generally.

Chrysler Strike Is Settled

17-Day Walkout Ends As Workers Accept 13-Cent Wage Boost

DETROIT — (AP) — The vanguard of 75,000 Chrysler Corp. workers began trickling back into the plants Saturday, their 17-day strike ended by a straight 13-cent an hour wage increase.

With their return the second major labor dispute in the automobile industry this year was written off the books.

Chrysler's settlement with the CIO United Auto Workers, announced Friday night, bettered by 2 cents the raise given 225,000 strike-threatening General Motors employes under a cost of living formula only three days earlier.

It provided less than half the union's original demand but more than twice Chrysler's best previous offer.

Contract Extended.

It also extended the company's contract, due to expire in 11 months, until August, 1950. Either Chrysler or the UAW can seek an adjustment of wage rates once any time after June 15, 1949. Salaried employes, some of them represented by the UAW, were given an eight per cent raise with a floor of $20 a month.

There was no offiical explanation as to why Chrysler settled for a flat sum rather than the widely-heralded GM sliding scale. However, a union customarily holds out for a penny or two more than the pattern for its members on strike.

Chrysler would not say whether it plains to raise car prices to cover its higher labor costs.

Hits Ford's Demand.

The agreement left only the Ford Motor Co. of the industry's Big Three yet to settle with the UAW in the third postwar wage drive. It apparently knocked a second prop from under Ford's counter-demand for a wage cut.

The auto union promptly hailed the settlement as "a signal victory for all American workers in view of the determination of industry as a whole to fight against any wage increases at all or, in some instances, to fight for wage reductions while prices continue to rise."

Norman Matthews, UAW Chrysler director, said the strike had "cracked the solid opposition" of the auto, steel and electrical industries to pay raises this year.

Wm. Sontheimer Takes Own Life

William Sontheimer, 60, Route 2, was found dead Saturday morning hanging from a rafter in a garage back of his home.

A life long resident of Lincoln, Sontheimer's home was located near the Swingle plant.

New City Is Under Assault

Jews, Sorely In Need Of Food, Water, Try To Break Road Blockades

CAIRO—(AP)—Arabs began an attack in modern Jerusalem today and the Israeli army reported Egyptian troops had driven up the Palestine coast to a point within 20 miles of Jaffa, Tel Aviv's neighbor city.

The Egyptians reached the vicinity of Isdud village, two miles short of the borders of the state of Israel, a Tel Aviv communique said. This was an advance of 10 miles since midweek.

CAIRO—(AP) — Arab troops began an attack Saturday in modern Jerusalem. Jews, short of water and food, tried desperately to break a blockade of all four highways entering the city.

Legion guns pounded Jewish concentrations in new Jerusalem, even as raging fires swept the ancient Jewish ghetto in the old city. There Israeli remnants, with food and ammunition gone, surrendered yesterday after a five-month siege topped off by an 11-day pounding from the guns of King Adullah's Arab legion

Now the Jews in all Jerusalem are in a throttling state of siege that can be ended only by the opening of supply routes to the Mediterranean coast.

Locked In Fierce Battle.

"The battle for the defense of New Jerusalem and for the liberation of the old city continues," a Haganah (Jewish army) communique declared.

Thousands of Israelis and Arabs were locked in a battle west of Jerusalem for the highway from Tel Aviv which could supply the Holy City's 80,000 Jews. The Arabs threw armor, artillery, planes and all the manpower they could spare into the fight, Tel Aviv reports said.

Fight to Break Ring.

Jews fighting to break the Arab ring around Jerusalem could see smoke and flames belching from the rubble-strewn old city. Arab forces, commanding the Zion gate, led the last group of Jewish civilians—women and children, young and old, from the old city.

In the old city's police barracks, 294 Jewish men of military age were temporarily behind bars, waiting buses to take them to a camp at Amman, Trans-Jordan. Seriously wounded men, under the surrender terms accepted Friday, were to be delivered to Jewish lines in Jerusalem, but the others of some 150 wounded may be kept prisoners.

Fires raged through the night in the Jewish quarter. The Arabs blamed Jewish mines which they said exploded from time fuses after the surrender was concluded. Some Arabs kindled fires purposely before the evacuation.

The 1947 registration fee total was $3,703,501, with $2,469,539 going to the counties and $1,084,489 into the maintenance fund of the state.

The 1947 total going to the mail route graveling fund for counties was $1,116,568. The law, which took the one cent tax formerly going to state assistance and with it established the graveling fund, took effect Sept. 7 of 1947.

GOP Adopts 'No-Action' On Appointments

Plan Aimed At Keeping All Possible Jobs Open Until After Election

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Republicans set up a barricade Saturday against confirmation of any further major appointments by President Truman.

With their eyes on the November election, GOP leaders were reported determined to keep all possible jobs open to be filled by a republican president, if one is elected.

The republican policy committee was said to have passed the word quietly to senate committee chairmen to hold up action on several current appointees, including Frieda B. Hennock of New York, first woman to be nominated to the federal communications commission.

Republicans already have agreed to support a bill extending the terms of David E. Lilienthal and his associates on the atomic energy commission only until 1950. Mr. Truman asked a five-year appointment for Chairman Lilienthal, with one-to-four year terms for the other four members.

Republican leaders also are expected to hold up hundreds of postmaster appointments, although many involving war veterans appear likely to go through.

VA Staff Of Doctors To BeAdequate

Despite Release Of Navy, Army Doctors Training At Hospital

The release of doctors under the army specialized training program and the Navy V-12 will in no way result in an undermanned staff at the Veterans hospital here, Dr Harry Scott, chief of the Lincoln hospital, stated Saturday.

Those leaving as their tours of duty expire will be replaced under a new program by which the Lincoln hospital had been given official recognition for participation in a residency program for doctors specializing in general surgery and internal medicine, Dr. Scott said

This program has been approved by the V. A. and the national medical specialty board, he stated.

The Lincoln hospital has 12 doctors under the ASTP and Navy programs. Dr. Scott said that by July 1 probably only two or three would remain at the hospital.

But, he added, the replacements probably would be men with as much or more experience as those leaving. In addition, he said, the hospital staff has an adequate staff of permanent key men and receives much help from Lincoln doctors who appear regularly at the hospital.

"There will be absolutely no letup in medical care for patients," Dr. Scott said.

Opportunities Are Unlimited Seniors Told

At Union College Baccalaureate

"The opportunities are unlimited and the needs are staggering" Elder N. R Dower, president of the Texico conference, declared at Union college baccalaureate exercises Saturday morning.

He explained that the "young people of today can shape the destiny of the world and stand between the living and the dead.

"The majority of the problems faced by the world today arise directly out of spiritual misunderstanding," he said, and advised that "youth of today should dedicate itself to service."

The invocation was given by Dr. I. F. Blue, professor emeritus, department of religion. Dr. E. N. Dick, senior class sponsor, pronounced the benediction

Musical numbers featured the Union college choir and Herbert G. Hohensee, graduating senior, soloist.

The conferring of degrees to 75 graduates by President Robert W. Woods will be held Sunday. The commencement address will be delivered by Elder W. Homer Teesdale, president of the Seventh--Day Adventist Home Study institute in Washington, D. C.

Construction On Increase In May

A marked increase in the construction of new living units was shown in the May building permit report issued Saturday by E A. Vorhees, city building inspector.

A total of 129 living units were begun as compared with 75 units during April and 38 during May of 1947.

The breakdown for the past month showed that of the total, 62 were one and two family houses valued at $356,150 and 15 fourplexes worth $275,000.

Figures for the month of April reveal that only 47 one and two family houses and five fourplexes were started.

Additional permits for garages, warehouses, gas plant buildings, alterations and office spaces brought the total value of new building for May to $892,782 as compared with a total of $736,158 during April. Total May fees amounted to $2,009 for 262 permits.

Total value of new business construction, excluding the new drive-in theater at Forthy-eighth and Vine, amounted to $82,382. Cost of the theater was $24,000. Store alterations amounted to $22,550.

A second story addition to the Sacred Heart school at Seventeenth and Lake was valued at $43,000.

Thousands More Flee From Homes

. . . State Of Emergency

(By the Associated Press)

Flood waters spread an ever-widening path of destruction over the Pacific northwest Saturday, bringing a declaration of a state of emergency by Washington's Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, similar action was planned by Idaho's Gov. C. A. Robins.

The situation in eastern Washington, northern Oregon, northern Idaho, western Montana and British Columbia was described by the Red Cross as a "regional disaster."

Deaths mounted to 15 and damage to crops and property grew by uncounted millions.

Highways Closed.

Primary rail and highway routes either were closed or disrupted, and more were threatened hourly.

Thousands of additional refugees fled their homes along tributaries of the mighty Columbia and its steadily rising rush to the ocean. Others endangered by the rampaging Kootenai river in northern Idaho abandoned belongings and made their way to higher ground and safety.

Washington national guardsmen joined the battle against the area's worst series of spring torrents in 54 years. Units from the Canadian to Oregon borders were ordered into action.

Militia Mobilized.

In British Columbia, the Canadian militia was mobilized to aid the swelling number of refugees in the rich Fraser river valley from its mouth near Vancouver, B. C., to Agassiz, 73 miles to the east.

Other major evacuations:

VANCOUVER, Wash.—1,400 persons moved out of the Fruit alley housing project west of the city.

YAKIMA, Wash.—Several hundred families, many victims of panic, quit their homes in lowland districts near Yakima. Breaks in dikes were rumored but all were minor and quickly repaired.

NORTH CENTRAL WASHINGTON—The town of Twisp in the upper Methow valley was partially evacuated.

BONNERS FERRY, Ida.—Business district reported worst hit, with water two feet deep in the streets.

KENNEWICK, Wash.—Businesses and homes flooded along Avenue C—main thoroughfare in a low-lying section—were being evacuated.

Portland's Morrison street bridge—one of seven main bridges across the Willamette river in the center of the city—was scheduled to go out of service temporarily.

Protests Made To Beer Sale At 16th And N Street Area

Objections to the sale of beer or liquor at, or near, the vicinity of Sixteenth and N streets were addressed to the city council Friday by 19 protestors in the area.

Included among the objectors are John Settelmayer, city librarian; Ray Cronan, Veterans Weekly, and Teresa McKenna, Y.W.C.A. general secretary.

The petitioners charge that such an establishment would be inconsistent with plans to make area from Fourteenth to Sixteenth and from the capitol building to N street into a civic and cultural center.

No beer or liquor stores now exist in the area, according to the petition. To permit such would also result in a depreciation of surrounding property values, concludes the statement.

WEDDING OF ROYAL PAIR SET

Close Source Asserts Princess Anne To Wed King Mihai On June 5

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—(AP)—A source close to the royal family said Saturday Princess Anne of Bourbon Parma will marry former King Mihai of Romania in Athens June 5.

The princess will leave Copenhagen by air for Greece tomorrow, the informant added.

The wedding ceremony will follow the Greek Orthodox ritual and will be performed by the aged Archbishop Damaskinos, the infromant said.

Last March Pope Pius XII refused to grant a special dispensation permitting the marriage Queen Helen, mother of Mihai, and Princess Margrethe, mother of Anne, had visited the pope in the hope of obtaining the dispensation.

Anne's mother and her two brothers, Prince Jaques and Prince Michel, will accompany Anne to Athens.

. . . Annual Camporee

More than 225 Boy Scouts from 25 Lincoln troops "hit the trail" early this morning in the second and final day of camporee activities at Camp Minis Kuya. The Scouts hiked over a mile and half route, checking their course by compass and observing bird life and nature study.

The remainder of the day will be spent in signalling, fire-building, knot-tying, judging and knife-and-axe contests.

Contests began Friday evening with star study and troop stunts at the camp fire gathering. More than 23 Lincoln men are acting as judges for the camporee.

The climax of the camporee will be a council fire at 9:30 p. m., when the winners of unit awards will be announced. Awards will be based on points accumulated by troops and patrols during the contests.

OLD AND NEW

There was a mixture of both the old and the new in a trip through central Nebraska to the Plum Creek celebration at Lexington towards the close of the week.

★

It is a most fascinating tradition which annually thousands of that section of Nebraska perpetuate. Plum Creek, the original site of Lexington, was one of the most important stations on the old Overland trails. Scarcely a letter or report dealing with the great migrations of western settlement neglected to mention Plum Creek. Its pioneer hospitality greeted the weary and anxious eyes of vast numbers who moved in long chains across the Nebraska prairies. That, of course, was a part of the old. Plum Creek was a flourishing post when the first of the Indian troubles in 1864 drew attention to it. The railroad was being built and the Indian, long smouldering under the invasion of one of his choicest hunting grounds, struck back.

★

That is a part of the old—so old that it is not recognizable today—but nevertheless very real, and in the respect and reverence to be accorded to historic developments, important.

★

There is something new, comparatively new, and something flourishing in that part of the Platte valley. It is an industry built upon thousands of acres of lush alfalfa. The mills are in full operation, and have been, for this, the first cutting of the crop. There are 27 dehydrating plants in Dawson county alone. Each at the peak of operation employs a force of approximately 50 men. At the little town of Darr (pop. 34 in the last census) there are eight, each plant representing an investment of between $50,000 and $60,000. Those eight plants provide seasonal employment for 200 people. There are seven at Lexington, two at Odessa, and further up the Platte at Cozad and other points many more.

★

Alfalfa contains an unusual amount of water. The dehydrating process removes most of that water, reduces the alfalfa to a coarse mixture, which is sacked and shipped great distances at a very considerable saving in transportation costs. Not all of the enormous production of alfalfa in the North Platte valley is handled in this way. Huge shipments of baled alfalfa still go to the southland, to Wisconsin, to New York state and to other markets. But the use to which dehydrated alfalfa is being put is increasing constantly—as feed for turkeys, chickens, rabbits, dairy cattle and for finishing beef as a substitute very largely for oil cake.

★

Wet and dry seasons, on irragated lands and the low-lying river flats where the plant can sink its roots to the well-watered subterranean table, there is a no better alfalfa-producing section in the northern states where the growing season is of short duration. Parts of irrigated Arizona and California will have more cuttings—ranging sometimes as high as eight and nine in a year against a generous four in the Platte valley—but the product is no better and the acreage is much more restricted.

★

The new industry is the perfect illustration of the desirable type of Nebraska development. In its industrial expansion the opportunity ahead of the people is the processing of the raw materials produced within the state. Probably the most dependable, stable type of industry is that which is based upon relatively small plants, and plants that have a direct relationship to the other productive efforts of the people of the state.

★

That is a breath of the new, pleasing and gratifying. Its results can be seen at Lexington, where a substantial community among the first settlements of the upper Platte valley has experienced a "new look" and is looking forward confidently to the census of 1950 to establish its claim to a population of 5,000 or more.

★

Fourteen years has made such a difference in all that country. In the closing months of 1933, and the early months of 1934 this writer visited all of those towns from Grand Island west to Lexington and beyond, both to the north and the south of the Platte. It was so dry and so hot. Farms and farm homes were falling into disrepair. Only an amazing devotion to the land kept thousands of people struggling against the difficulties of drouth. The farmhouses were unpainted; the barns were sagging. The soil and the people seemed discouraged and weary, and the people were weary. There has been a tremendous amount of paint spread since the turn of the cycle from drouth to rain, since the swing from ruinously low prices to unprecedentedly high farm commodity prices. There has been a lot of paint spread, and there's still a lot to spread—there has been a lot of new homes built, and a lot of new barns—and there still are a lot to built. There were a lot of trees that died, and many more planted, and in these years of more generous rainfall the plantings have reached impressive size. There was scarcely an electrified farm in all of its modernity, and there are thousands of them today.

★

Roosevelt's "folly"—the shelter belt—is a part of that which is of the new. It would have been impossible to have convinced anyone in the mid-thirties that trees put in the ground a matter of slightly more than 10 years ago could have grown so rapidly or so majestically. They are impressive as they fringe the highways, and they add a comforting look to a region of flat, unbroken tableland.

★

It was 84 years ago that the first Indian attack took place at Plum Creek. The railroad had not arrived, but was pushing its steel ribbons westward. In 16 years one of the historic stations on the old trails will observe a centennial and if what was revealed during the week is a sample of what is to come on the 100th anniversary, then Nebraskans should begin arranging their plans now to be on hand. It took a solid hour for the parade to pass through the streets of Lexington at any given point. Clearly those public-spirited groups and individuals responsible for Plum Creek Days spared neither time, energy nor money in making it a success. They had the support of their neighbors in a most generous spirit. There were over 500 horses in the parade, the most magnificent specimens of horseflesh, ridden by men and women in colorful garb. The riding club of Cozad alone had 150 horses in the parade and there was representation from a number of other towns. There was careful arrangement—eight Palominos in file, eight bays eight sorrels, and then eight blacks. The floats, some modern, more commemorative of historic incidents, individuals and places, completed the pageant. There were bands and children and even the clowns were not forgotten. It was a great show, outwardly joyous and festive, with proper fitting reverence for the pioneers and for the great incidents of statebuilding.

CHAPTER 21

"Your mother is not a young woman, Hildy. Suppose it were a brain tumor—an operation might not be easy on her at her age."

"You mean she wouldn't come out of it?" Such fear as she had never known gripped Hildred's heart, so that she could not get out of the car though Randy was holding the door for her.

"I didn't say that." He took her by an arm now and helped her out. His gray eyes smiled down into hers and he gave her a little shake as if he'd put her feet—and herself—firmly on the ground. "I told you, in the beginning, not to start fretting—and look at you! Your mother has had these spells for years—ever since your father was killed, as you've often told me. She always comes out of them nicely—she told me only a short while ago that they seem much further apart lately."

"But they last longer and are worse." How could she shut out worry where her mother was concerned? "All right, Randy, I won't fret—not any more, this evening, anyway!" That could not help any and it was not fair to Randy. But Hildred determined that she would see if anything could be done about that brain specialist in Atlanta. Randy ought to be able to help—he would if she persisted—since his recent connection with that big hospital there.

She would have to phone and tell Lucien that she could not come this week end. Poor Jimmy, she would have to disappoint him, too — unless Lucien had Robin fetch him without her.

Randy sat looking at her. His tone was bantering, he gave her his wide grin, which because it was so rare was also so completely winning, "You're pretty enough, as girls go, Hildy,—but who can hope to catch the spirit within, or behind your pretty face. You've got a lot of it, you know!"

"Sometimes I could use more," she returned with that defiant toss of her blonde head. "I don't suppose you meant that as flattery, Doctor."

"I don't believe in spoiling the opposite sex." His grin widened. "Heaven knows they are vain enough as it is."

"You seem to have a low opinion of the fair sex. One would think that you had been crossed in love."

"I have." His eyes smiled into hers. "Have you forgotten that you turned me down when I asked you to marry me? A low opinion? I think women are angels, all of them. Only I have been too busy all my life to test that theory."

This was dangerous ground—Hildred felt that telltale color of hers spreading into her cheeks. "You should take time, then. All work and no play—you know what is said about that."

"Oh, I know I'm a dull fellow," Randy returned. "I must seem extremely so to you now that you know Mr. Lanier."

Could that mean he was a trifle jealous? But he had let opportunity slip by; he had not said anything more. Oh! how she wished something would happen to make him wake up.

Something was to do that very thing—but of course, as she could not see into the future Hildred could not know that then.

Lucien was much disappointed that she could not come the following Saturday. When she phoned him to explain that she had to go after her mother, who had been ill. But he also was most understanding and sympathetic.

If proof were needed of that he gave it by asking if there was not something he could do. "Would you like to have Robin drive you up to get your mother?" Lucien asked. "You can't bring her back on the train if she's not feeling well."

Hildred explained, further, that she already had been offered the use of a friend's car. "Doctor Baird is driving me up," she said, thanking Lucien.

"What is this Doctor Baird like?" Lucien asked. His voice held its mocking quality, even over the wire. "I hope he is not young and handsome, Hildred."

"Oh, but he is! Decidedly so!"

"Aha . . . now I shall be envious of him! No wonder you are always saying Doctor Baird says this, or Doctor Baird says that. You are always quoting him, you know, my dear."

"Am I? Well, he's my boss, you know."

"I don't like the idea of your having a boss." Lucien's tone was his firm, authoritative one. "What does he say about your mother, this remarkable doctor of yours? Why doesn't he do something for her so she will not have these headaches?"

Hildred told him that Randy did not think there was anything to be done.

"There's always something!" It was plain Lucien had no patience with that. He surprised Hildred by adding now, "We shall look into it, my dear—I promise you!"

She said, "You seem to think you must take on all my responsibilities, Lucien. But it's kind of you. I do appreciate it, more than I can say."

"I like to do so," he returned promptly. "It gives me more pleasure than I possibly can tell you. And that reminds me, Hildred, I have something to tell you. But I had meant to do so Saturday. Now it must wait until your return."

"I believe you like to keep me in suspense! But I will be a good girl and wait, as you ask." She wondered, nevertheless, what— or who—it was about. Jimmy? His cousin, Dodo? But no use trying to guess. Lucien liked to do everything in his own way.

However, when next Hildred saw Lucien he had two things, each of great importance to tell her, instead of just one. Each was to be a big surprise, in its way. Each was to affect that future far more than she could have foreseen.

Capital Created 15 Million Jobs---du Pont Official

V. S. Peterson, representative of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours chemical com pany, told Lincoln Kiwanis club members Friday noon that one out of every four persons owes his job, directly or indirectly, to the developments based on the investment of capital.

A graduate of the Kansas State college engineering school, Peterson spoke at the chamber of commerce on "Preview of Progress." He added that 15 new industries have come into existence since 1870, resulting in 15,000,000 jobs.

"We have gone forward in this country," he asserted, "because of our system of free competitive enterprise, with science, capital, labor and management pooling their skills and resources to arrive at the common objective of producing goods at prices people can pay."

In comparing the American and Russian economic systems, Peterson stated that it takes three hours of work in the U. S. to buy a family's daily food requirements as compared to nine hours in Russia. He said an American worker could buy a watch from the pay of 30 hours labor, while the same watch would require 1,600 hours work in the Soviet Union.

Peterson declared that advancement can best be made through research and the acquiring of new knowledge, adding that "knowledge is power." He believed that if a product is to become successful, it must be translated into knowledge, service and progress.

The du Pont public relations official traced briefly the steps in producing nylon. He explained how its value and development were attained by research and study.

Youth Released On $1,500 Bond Stabbing Case

Wilson Hearing Set For June 4; Pleads Not Guilty Manslaughter

Lewis Wilson, 17-year-old junior high school student, was released from the city jail Friday night on $1,500 bond after pleading innocent yesterday afternoon to a charge of manslaughter.

Defense Attorney George Craven entered the not guilty plea for the youth, who sat on the witness stand. The frail blond lad remained silent throughout the Municipal court proceedings.

Lewis' preliminary hearing in the death of Emery Ganun, Lincoln grocer, was scheduled for next Friday in Municipal court by Judge Edward C. Fisher.

The complaint filed by County Attorney Frederick H. Wagener charges Lewis with "unintentionally" killing Ganun "without malice, upon a suden quarrel" Wednesday afternoon.

The boy admitted to police that he held the 18-inch butcher knife which fatally stabbed the grocer in the stomach during an altercation. The fatal incident occurred in Ganun's store at Thirteenth and Stillwater streets. The youth was a part-time clerk in the store.

The lad's mother, Mrs. Mildred Duncan, of 2666 South Tenth street, signed the surety bond set by Judge Fisher. Lewis had been held in city jail since his arrest Wednesday evening.

Technologists Urged 'Hold To Traditions'

Dr. Covey Advises Graduates Not Let Group Become Union

A graduating class of eleven from the Bryan Memorial and Lincoln General hospital schools of medical technology were told Friday night to hold to the traditions of a scientific and humanitarian profession and to not let their group become a union.

Dr. George W. Covey, chief-of-staff at Lincoln General hospital, was the speaker who addressed the class at commencement exercises held at Trinity Methodist church.

"Whatever 'union' there is should be designed to improve your technique and increase your knowledge, thus laying a broader and stronger foundation. You will thereby increase your indispensability to the medical profession and to the public," he declared.

"If your work is well done, your results accurate, and you are willing to give of yourself to these ends, I believe you need never worry about the monetary rewards," Dr. Covey stated. "They will be adequate and you will be rewarded further in personal satisfaction, and in the trust placed in you by the physician and the patient."

Tells Of Progress.

Commenting on the progress that has been made in the local field, Dr. Covey stated:

"It seems to me that my generation of physicians has witnessed a revolution in the practice of medicine.

"In 1914, there was no laboratory technician in Lincoln, and probably none in Nebraska . . .

"In intervening years, clinical pathology has grown to adult size. The number of laboratory procedures has multiplied tremendously."

Dr. Edwin C. McDade, superintendent at Bryan Memorial, and T. J. McGinty, superintendent of Lincoln General, presided at the exercises. Benediction and the invocation were by the Rev. Harold M. Bryant.

Mrs. George W. Covey and Mrs. Frank H. Tanner were hostesses at a reception held in the church parlors for the graduates.

Dr. Frank H. Tanner presented diplomas to the following graduates:

Lincoln General Hospital.

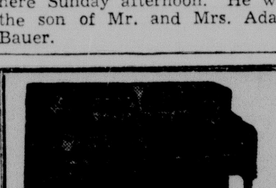

Donna Lee Spohn, Chester.
Barbara Flory Bratt, Pawnee City.
Marilyn Guyer, Blair.
Ethredge F. Williams, Lincoln.

Bryan Memorial Hospital.

Beth Bryant Ludi, Lincoln.
Nova McKinney McCarthy, Lincoln.
L. Dwight Moell, Lincoln.
Val Gould Wilkins, Lincoln.
Mary Catherine Schram, Gretna.
Patricia McManaman, Spalding.

LINCOLN CONTRACTOR AND WIFE RETURN FROM GREECE—Stepping down from a plane at the Lincoln airport Friday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Dobson. They returned from Greece where Mr. Dobson has served as the chief of the construction division of the U. S. Aid mission since last August.

Greek Reconstruction Work 'On Schedule', Dobson Says

. . . Half U. S. Aid To Greek Army

The job of reconstruction in Greece is progressing on schedule although approximately half of the $48,000,000 in U. S. aid has been diverted to military expenditures there, Arthur A. Dobson, Lincoln contractor and former chief of the reconstruction division of the American mission for aid to Greece, stated in a Friday night interview.

Of the original U. S. appropriation of $48,000,000 for reconstruction work, Dobson stated that $24,000,000 has been diverted to the Greek army. The mission has supplied the Greek forces with arms, ammunition and equipment to fight the guerrillas who are slowly being defeated, he said.

Dobson, who resigned last month after serving as the reconstruction chief since August, 1947, reported that the railroads were the only part of construction work that has been hindered by the guerrillas.

Canal 'Biggest Job.'

The "biggest job" in the reconstruction work in Greece—the reopening of the wreckage filled and damaged Corinth canal—will be completed on Aug. 1, Dobson reported. The canal, which stretches across the four mile peninsula, was used as a passage of steamships from one coast of Greece to another.

Referring to the mission, he stated "an excellent job is being done by the Nebraskans connected with the program." Some of them may remain there as part of the permanent recovery program, Dobson added.

Work Progressing Well.

"American shipments are coming through well, and all indications point to the largest wheat crop in the last 70 years this summer. The Greeks appreciate the aid, and are most co-operative."

Reconstruction work is progressing well, with more than 30,000 Greeks employed, he indicated, although hampered by lack of security in some areas. Bandit bands are very active in the mountains.

The Greek government is employing two Americans in key positions, Dobson revealed. One is the commissioner of waterworks, and the other commissioner of roads and highways.

"The Greeks are most politically minded people in the world," Arthur A. Dobson, Lincoln resident and former chief of the reconstruction division of the American mission for aid to Greece, stated in an interview after his return to Lincoln Friday afternoon.

"Politics is a serious business in Greece," he added, "the political situation is very active, and fluctuates constantly."

Dobson and his wife flew to Lincoln from New York City, after arriving on the Queen Elizabeth Thursday from Europe. On their return from Athens they visited Switzerland, France and England.

Patrol Plans To Guard President

Capt. C. J. Sanders of the state highway patrol was in Omaha Friday conferring with representatives of the secret service on security regulations during the visit of President Harry Truman to the state next week.

Omaha police have requested the assistance of the patrol during the time the president is in the city and the secret service asked for their aid at stops outside of Omaha.

MONEY

The miser hides it 'neath his bed.
The spendthrift for some pleasure spends it.
Some save for rainy days ahead.
The friendly fellow often lends it.
The wicked plot and plan to thieve it,
But when death summons all men leave it.

Money is noble, nobly used;
Good when it helps the weak and needy;
Bitter when kindness is refused;
Bad when it's worshipped by the greedy.
But howsoever men receive it
Behind them at their death they leave it.

Money can pain and suffering ease.
The old and broken it can pension.
'Tis pleasant when it's used to please,
But ugly when it breeds dissension.
But when is stilled the pulse's rhythm,
The dead don't take one penny with 'em.

Marriage Solemnized

THE marriage of Miss Doris Faughn, daughter of Mrs. George Bullock, to Earl Ray Chapman of Winfield, Kas., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chapman, was solemnized at a double ring ceremony on Wednesday afternoon, May 26. The lines of the 2 o'clock service were read by Bishop Marion Powell of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, at his home with only members of the immediate family attending.

Miss Betty Lee Neff of Omaha was the maid of honor and only attendant. Miss Neff was frocked in pink georgette over pink satin, and her brief veil was held in place with a headband of matching satin. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Tony May of Wellington, Kas., served Mr. Chapman as best man.

For her wedding the bride also chose a gown of pink georgette over satin in the same tone. Her veil was fingertip length and was held to the head with a French imported crown-shaped tiara formed of seed pearls. She carried a nosegay of pink sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Bishop Powell, with only the wedding guests attending.

Mr. Chapman and his bride left for Portland, Ore., where they plan to make their home, stopping en route in Denver, Salt Lake City, Pocatello and Boise, Idaho. For traveling the bride wore a pink linen frock with all white accessories.

Mrs. Chapman is a former student at the University of Nebraska and for the past year has been teaching in the West Lincoln school. Mr. Chapman served thirty-six months with the navy during the war, with twenty-one months overseas duty in the south Pacific.

Union College Consecration Services Held

. . . Seniors Pledge Goals

Talks by three seniors Friday night highlighted annual commencement consecration services at Union college.

Second event of the three-day program was the baccalaureate service Saturday morning. Commencement exercises will be held at 10 a. m. Sunday in College View Seventh Day Adventist church.

Opening the consecration ceremonies, Winston Dennis, senior class pastor, declared that faith in God is as necessary to victorious living as is food and shelter.

"There is no health for men who breathe continually the air of doubt," he said.

No Escape Possible.

Referring to the dawn of the atomic age, Dennis commented: "We may not like the era, for it has in it much of uncertainty and even of terror. Yet, all of us must face it. We cannot escape it."

"There is nothing which contributes so much to despair as the discovery that there is no purpose in all our striving, when our goals are set no higher than the material things of this world," he asserted.

He remarked that his generation has lived in the shadow of great personalities, but who soon pass from the scene. But there remains one who taught and lived principles which do not alter with time.

"The name of the Man who can answer the world's cry for a leader is Christ. In His name men and women can find courage, strength and wisdom," Dennis said.

Beginning Another Week.

Byron Blecha, class president, delivered the second address on the subject, "We Belong to Him."

"We have not been preparing ourselves for wealth or fame, but to do the work of God," he said.

"We are leaving Union college upon the completion of our work only to begin another work. The Gospel commission as given to the apostles applies equally to the graduates of this class."

Giving the response for the senior class, Herbert Hill declared that "there is something in a challenge that drives men to do the difficult and arduous things in life."

"It seems to generate within the heart of man a determination to persevere nto the finishing of that which he has been 'daring to attempt.' It is in this undaunted spirit that we, the graduating class of '48, press toward the mark of the high calling of God in our Saviour, Jesus Christ."

George Thomson read the opening Scripture, followed by the invocation by William Garrison. Jay Lantry sang "Spirit of God," while Jean Bartling and Frances Chamberlain presented a duet, "Beside the Still Waters."

William May led in the closing prayer for consecration. Processional and recessional music was played by J. Mabel Wood and Opal Miller, instructors in the college music department.

MR. AND MRS. W. A. JOHNSON announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Doris Elizabeth, to Maurice F. Harnish. The wedding will take place in August.

Miss Johnson, a member of Beta Sigma Phi, business girls' sorority, now is attending UCLA.

Mr. Harnish, who served three years with the navy, now is with the Paramount theater corporation, as a projectionist.

games and contests at 2 p. m. Mrs. Doris Pierce, director of city recreation, said that in case of rain the event will be held in Willard school.

First School Music Festival In Pinewood Bowl Highly Successful

BY MARY LOUISE BOEHM

It took a lot of planning and hard work by such people as Hugh Rangeler, Lyle Welch, Dorothea Gore, Vernon Forbes and Bernard Nevin, mentioning but a few, to present 900 persons from Lincoln public schools in a Spring Music Festival in Pinewood bowl Friday night. Their efforts were well rewarded, as proved by the audience which filled the outdoor auditorium, and also by the enthusiasm engendered in the students themselves.

The varied program was comprised of numbers performed by the combined bands, orchestras, junior high boys and girls, senior high boys and girls, and a finale featuring the bands, orchestras, and singers en masse. One can say it was an extremely successful venture—one which should be repeated next year.

In another year, details undoubtedly will be worked out even smoother—getting the choruses on and off stage faster, adjusting lights and microphones beforehand.

There are many problems involved in any production out-of-doors, factors concerned primarily with the matter of acoustics. One must contend with the interference of outside sounds, and even the direction of the wind. No doubt a good sized band shell would lessen these difficulties.

But a problem which can be corrected immediately is the general popcorn and peanut attitude which was prevalent in the demeanor of the audience. If Lincoln children have no more respect for the efforts of their teachers and classmates, for the music itself, than to talk through the entire performance, they are in danger of learning to regard outdoor concerts as another kind of sport. And surely this kind of musical activity deserves a dignified hearing as well as all out support and encouragement.

"Keep Faith" Reed Tells 55 TCHS Seniors

Duley Wins Regents Scholarship Award

Fifty-five Teachers college high school seniors received certificates of graduation Friday evening at commencement exercises held at the Temple theater.

Wayne O. Reed, state superintendent of public instruction, addressed the graduates and urged them to "re-dedicate yourselves to those things which have made American democracy the greatest way of life known to mankind."

Speaking on "Let's Join Hands," Reed stressed the need for the seniors to join hands with other graduating classmates all over the country to be living examples that the schools have been the greatest single force for the integration of liberty loving people.

Told To "Keep Faith."

Declaring faith to be a set of standards by which all things can be measured, Reed told the graduates, "keep faith, without it life goes to pieces. Your faith may be religion, it may be an idea, but whatever it is, it is something in which a person can believe."

David Duley was named recipient of a University of Nebraska regent's scholarship.

Alternate winners of the scholarship are Richard Childs and Kenneth Ellis with honorable mention to Phyllis Dingman. Wilma Schwartz and Shirley Woolman tied for first place on the class honor roll.

Other seniors on the honor roll were Shirley Cleveland, Phyllis Dingman, Stanley Meyer, Mary Ann Schleiger and Betty Schwartz. Eligibility for the honor roll was a 90 per cent average.

Dr. W. H. Morton, principal, presided and certificates were presented by Dr. F. E. Henzlik, dean of the University of Nebraska teachers college. A girls octet presented two numbers and Ailene Kernes sang a solo. Invocation and benediction was given by Rev. William Paul Barnds, rector of St. Matthews Episcopal church.

Pueblo Slaps A's, 9-5

15-HIT ASSAULT SPOILS BERNARDI'S DEBUT; LIMMER SMASHES 7TH HOMER

BY RALPH STEWART
(Star Sports Staff Member).

PUEBLO'S league-leading Western loop club broke loose with a 15-hit barrage Friday night at Sherman Field to defeat the Lincoln A's 9-5 and even the current series between the two teams at one game each.

Friday's win which increased Pueblo's lead back to four full games over Lincoln came at the expense of the A's newly acquired hurler, Fritz Bernardi.

Manager John Fitzpatrick's hustling Dodgers had little respect for the righthand slants of the Milwaukee optioned flinger. Bernardi, who won 15 while losing nine for Savannah of the South Atlantic league last year, got off to a shaky start in the first inning and could never work himself out of trouble. He finally gave way to Al Bower in the fifth frame after giving up 10 hits and six runs.

CRUDE WELCOME.

Shortstop Johnny Angelone, second man to face Bernardi, started the fireworks for Pueblo. He bounced a three-base blow off the boards in right field and scored as Bob Steele, second baseman, rolled out short to first. Herb Gorman then greeted Bernardi with a ringing double and romped home after Ed Krage waited out a free pass and Bernie Zender singled.

Bernardi weathered the second and third cantos giving up a single in each inning, but fell victim to another Dodger up-rising in the fourth. Danny Holden singled and was driven home by George Bradshaw, who doubled. A sacrifice by Pitcher Bill Brightwell and a single by Jim Babcock scored Bradshaw and increased the Pueblo lead to 4-0.

Lincoln narrowed the count in its half of the fourth with a three-run rally, but Bernardi couldn't silence the heavy Pueblo guns. With only one out in the fifth frame Ed Krage doubled and Zender walloped a 350-foot home run over the right-center field fence. That was the end of Bernardi's debut.

BOWER WORKS.

The hard-working Bower checked the Dodgers' fire power somewhat but gave up single tallies in the sixth, seventh and ninth. Bradshaw climaxed Pueblo's scoring in the final inning with a homer over the right field fence.

Lincoln was limited to nine hits on the combined offerings of Brightwell and Reliefer John Schmidt. Brightwell retired the A's in order through the first three innings before Manager Jimmy DeShong's lads found their batting eye. Three hits and an error helped the A's pick up three runs.

Fox lived on Second Baseman Babcock's miscue and scored when Ed Boehm delivered Lincoln's first safe blow, a well-placed double into center field. Joe Aliperto and Lou Limmer were retired in order, but Bob Wellman kept the rally going with a safe hit. Tom Kirk rifled a single between first and second to score Wellman before Walt Novick lifted a high fly to deep center.

LIMMER HOMERS.

Limmer batted in the other two Lincoln tallies after Aliperto opened the seventh with his first hit of the evening. Brightwell fired two strikes past Limmer before the Lincoln first sacker picked out a fat one and sent it flying over the flag pole in right-center field for his seventh home run of the campaign.

The A's almost had another rally started after Limmer's circuit blow, but Fitzpatrick waived in Schmidt who forced George Suder to hit into his second double play and squelch the bid.

Aliperto and Bower with two singles each topped the Lincoln hitting while Zender, Bradshaw and Gorman all pounded out three safe blows for Pueblo. Gorman reached first safely five straight times, hitting three for three and drawing two bases on balls.

Lincoln winds up the three-game series with Pueblo Saturday night at 8:15. Skipper DeShong has nominated Irish Donahue for mound duty in the rubber tilt.

It shouldn't be long before they are making Danny Hile an honorary member of the Omaha fire department.

Thanks to his ability at putting out late-game rallies, Omaha was only a few percentage points out of a tie with Lincoln for second place in the western league race Saturday.

For the second night in a row, Hile squelched a Denver rally to give the Cards a 4-3 win. It was his fifth such performance of the season.

Kansas Don Wants Notice On Changes

LAWRENCE, Kas.—(AP)—The chancellor of Kansas University today told Big Seven faculty representatives he wanted advance notice of any proposals to change conference athletic policies.

Deane W. Malott, chancellor of the Jayhawker school, made his request in a letter to the university's faculty representative in connection with a recent reinterpretation of eligibility rules. The ruling barred several star Kansas athletes from further varsity competition.

The letter, addressed to W. W. Davis, K. U. faculty representative, said in part:

"This letter is written . . . to ask if you will instruct the proper authorities in the Big Seven that in the future I wish to see written agenda of the meetings in advance of any gathering of Big Seven faculty representatives.

"In connection with action taken by faculty advisers at their recent meeting, it seems evident to me that there should be closer and strongger liaison between faculty advisers and presidents of the institutions before policies are set and regulations are issued."

Annapolis Gets Noble

. . . G. I. Star Named

(Special to The Star)

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. — Bill Noble, former Grand Island high school athletic star, has received an appointment to the Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md.

He had enlisted in the marine corps last winter following the close of Grand Island's successful football season.

Noble is now at home on a ten day leave to be on hand for high school graduation exercises. He finished his high school education through correspondence courses since entering the service.

Currently stationed at San Diego, Noble will be sent to a navy prep school at Bainbridge, Md., for a nine month term. While in San Diego he won attention as a boxer during the naval district tournament.

He was eliminated on a split decision but later, after getting into shape, he knocked out a local heavyweight in a bout which attracted considerable attention from sports writers.

Following the boxing season, Noble won his place as No. . right halfback on the top football team at the depot.

STRANAHAN WINS BRITISH AMATEUR

SANDWICH, Eng.—(INS)—Frank Stranaham, son of a Toledo, O., millionaire, succeeded Willie Ternesa, of White Plains, N. Y., Saturday as the British amateur golf champion.

The muscular and money-laden young mid-westerner defeated Charlie Stowe, London mechanic, by 5 and 4 in a 36-hole final to retain for the United States rulership of Britain's golfing clans.

The triumph also avenged for the invading American Forces the defeat suffered by defender Turnesa against Stowe in Friday's semi-finals.

NU To Play Nite Game

. . . In Playoff

Sherman Field, home of the Lincoln Athletics professional baseball club, will be the site of the first game for the NCAA Fifth District baseball playoffs.

Game time is 8:15 p. m. for the initial meeting Monday, June 7, between the University of Nebraska and Oklahoma A. & M. college of Stillwater, Coach Tony Sharpe announced.

After Monday's game the two teams will move to the Cornhuskers' diamond on the campus for the remainder of the best-of-three games series.

The second and third, if necessary, contests are scheduled for 3 p. m.

Nebraska recently won the Big Seven conference championship by copping its last 10 league games without defeat. The Huskers finished their season with 14 conference triumphs and three losses. They broke even in four non-conference games.

The Aggies are Missouri Valley conference champions. They won 17 of 20 games this spring.

Weightmen Set Marks

. . . In Shot, Discus

MADISON, Wis. —(AP)— Two new records—the shot put and the discus—were in the Western conference record books Saturday as the finals of the 48th annual outdoor track meet opened at Camp Randall.

Michigan's Charley Fonville and Minnesota's Fortune Gordien, as expected, shattered the Big Nine marks in Friday's preliminaries dominated by Ohio State in the chase for team laurels. Each of the weight men has three more throws in his pet event Saturday.

Fonville, who has a world record of 58 feet ⅜-inch up for approval, pegged the 16-pound shot 54 feet 10 inches, bettering his own year-old mark by nine inches. Gordien flipped the discus 174 feet 4 inches to erase the conference record of 174 feet 1 inch set in 1941 by Archie Harris of Indiana.

The title-favored Buckeyes lived up to their advance billing, too, with 16 qualifiers in the nine preliminaries. Defending champion Illinois and Michigan were next with nine and eight, respectively. The rest of the field trailed, Northwestern qualifying seven men, Indiana and Minnesota six each, Wisconsin four and Iowa and Purdue one each.

Cycle Races Begin Sunday

The motorcycle races at the Fairgrounds track Sunday have drawn a field of 25 drivers from 12 states.

First events will be time trials which begin at 1 p. m. A nine race program is slated to start at 2. Novelty stunts and trick riding exhibitions will be also be displayed.

Potter Halts Yanks

Veteran Hurler Gives A' Win; Hold First Plac

BY BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

CONNIE Mack, whose luc seems to be all good for change this year, apparently ha found the relief man he wan in the veteran Nelson Potter.

Mr. Mack's Philadelphia Atl letics figure to have just abo the best pitching staff in tl American league. But Conn wanted an experienced man play fireman when one w needed.

The script called for Ru Christopher, once the A's startii age, to play this role. Christoph balked. He wanted starting jo or nothing. So Christopher w sold to the Cleveland Indiai where he wound up as a reli man.

CAME FROM BROWNS

A couple weeks ago the Atl letics bought Potter from the S Louis Browns in a straight ca deal. The chunky righthand performed for the A's from 19 to 1941 with little success. Th season he hadn't done much ar had a sore shoulder.

Strictly a starting pitcher wi the Browns ever since 1943, Pc ter has been used three times Philadelphia, always in relief. I worked once in a losing cau then saved a game for Joe Col man.

Friday night in Shibe Pa against the New York Yanke he clinched the job. He enter the game in the fifth with tv on and none out. He escaped wit out a run and from then on t Yanks couldn't move past first.

He came to Nebraska in 1932 and for a time bought prairie chickens and grouse for shipment to eastern markets. They ran several thousand head of Herefords, owned 35,000 acres of land and leased an additional 20,000 acres.

Last Bainbridge Will Held Valid By Jury

The will of William E. Bainbridge, Waverly farmer, drawn June 11, 1945, was declared valid late Friday by a District court jury.

Contesting the will were two sisters, Rhoda Otley, Waverly, and Lurena Derieg, Carnegie, Okla., and a nephew, George Derieg, Lincoln.

The three relatives contended, that on the basis of undue influence brought to bear by a neighbor and a niece of Mrs. Bainbridge, an instrument allegedly drawn up in February of 1942 should take precedence.

Attorneys have estimated the estate between $50,000 and $75,000.

Grains Slip To Lower Levels

CHICAGO—(AP)—All grains turned downward on the board of trade Saturday, unsettled by showers in the wheat belt and a substantial cut in July export allocations. The market opened lower and never was able to get to the previous close. Losses ranged to a couple of cents at times.

Soybeans also were lower after several days of sharp upswings. Traders said the reaction was mainly technical, although some raised a question as to whether the senate would get around to voting on the Oleo tax bill before the ending of congress.

Wheat closed 1¼@1⅞c lower, July $2.34½@¼, corn was 1½@1¾c lower, July $2.15½, oats were ¾@1⅛ lower, July 91½@⅝, and soybeans 2 to 3½c lower, July 4.14.

State Reinvests Funds At Higher Interest Rates

State Treasurer Edward Gillette reports that the state funds being temporarily invested in government bonds on June 1 will bring higher interest rates than have been received in the past.

One issue of $231,000, which matured, were reinvested at one and one-eighth per cent interest where previously it drew seven-eighths.

Reinvested was $500,000 in post-war construction funds, which had matured, in bonds due Oct. 1 and drawaing 1 per cent interest. They previously had drawn seven-eighths per cent interest.

In a bond exchange offered by the government on expiring bonds, the state was enabled to invest $800,000 of excess funds in 1⅛ per cent bonds without premium.

Also invested in bonds was $50,000 of funds in the State Historical Society building fund at 1½ per cent interest. This brings the total bond holdings in the building fund to $473,000.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.
